SUBJ: Thanks for braving the cold.

To All My Kappler friends,

I would like to thank Philip and Miller from Kappler for braving the cold of February in Michigan to provide valuable training to our regional Hazmat team. The two provided interesting insight into suit manufacture and selection in a way that was interesting to our members, generally Firefighter/Paramedics that bore easily when discussions center around materials, NFPA standards and testing. The class provided both lecture and hands on evolutions which worked out very well and I would highly recommend the Kappler University Road Show to any Hazmat Team.
